American Muleteers, Including One St. Louisan, in Almshouse.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York. April 2.—Ten men are at the medical pavilion of the Clarkson street almshouse, Brooklyn, waiting for some relief to turn up that they may get to their various homes. They are of a party that numbered fifty-two when they left this country nearly four months ago on a shin ioaded with mules, consigned to the British army in South Africa. The remainder of their number have not been lucky enough to get back to their native land, and are either dead or scattered in foreign parts.

This condition they say, is due to the privations they have suffered since they left New Orleans December 4, aboard the steamship Hyades of the Houston line, Captain Greenwald, with 1,002 mules, bound for New London, South Africa. Two of the men refused to give their names this morning, but London, South Africa. Two of the men re-fused to give their names this morning, but the others are: J. D. Tucker of St. Louis, who was head foreman among the others of the party, all of whom shipped as mule-teers; J. D. Colcock of Galveston and A. Gibson, New Orleans, assistant foreman; William Toomey, Memphis: Charles Pul-ford, Pittsburg: A. Kendry, Iowa: A. O'Con-nell, McKeesport, Pa., and Fred Houston, New Orleans.

The men arrived in New York on Friday board the ship Dunsten of the Bruce line The men arrived in New York on Friday aboard the ship Dunsten of the Bruce line from Para, Brazil. To-day they are penniless and charges upon the municipality, and have no hope of getting home, save from charitable sources.
